THE ART OF PLOWING.

Method of Controlling Team, Which May Seem Old, and May Seem New.

B. F. In the first place, our horses were trained to the words, gee, haw, back," etc. The words "ho" or "wo" and "back" are still common Crop Often Stands Too Long-Hour of with teamsters, but "gee" and "haw" are not often heard now, and by some would not be understood. "Gee" means turn to the right," and "haw," "turn to the left."

In the section which I refer, then and now, all plows are left hand, and for tions on this subject by W. P. Brooks and he lingered until June 8. GOLF IN THE SOUTH.

The Game Was Played In Charleston as Early as 1788.

Golf was played in Charleston as far back as 1788. In the City Gazette or Daily Advertiser of Sept. 27, 1791.

"Anniversary of the South Carolina Golf club will be held at Williams' coffee house on Thursday, 29th inst., when members are requested to attend at 2 o'clock precisely, that the When examination shows that the clov- the committee obtain the rare treasure business of the club may be transacted before dinner." For several years following may be found calls for the anniversary meetings to be held at "the clubhouse on Harleston's green," a tract of land all its leaves and heads, and should cure south of Boundary (now Calboun) street, between the present Coming and Rutledge streets.

The fact that it was the anniversary meeting in 1791 would show that the club had been organized before that date, but unfortunately the file of newspapers in the Charleston library is not complete for some years just prior, and one finds no earlier notices of meetings or mention of the club. But in the same journal of Sept. 18, 1788, there is an advertisement of an auction sale of a farm on Charleston Neck, between three and four miles from the city, adjoining Cochran's shipyard, bounding in part on Shipyard creek, which, after describing the different items of property included in the sale, states that "there is lately erected that pleasing and genteel amusement, the golf baan." This certainly indicates that golf was one of the local amusements of that day. The word "baan" (English-Dutch dictionary) means path, walk, way, etc., and golf, according to the Encyclopsedia Britannica, is derived from the Dutch "kolf," a club, and the game is doubtless of Dutch origin and introduced into Scotland about 1450 .-Charleston News and Courier.
